

EVERYDAY ACTIVISM in 2023

HCLS is pleased to offer new racial equity training opportunities this winter. We believe that when we engage in racial equity education, we are investing in our own knowledge and growth, AND we are investing in and contributing to our community's growth and progress.

Thank you for planning to do both in 2023!

New Lens for Howard County

Everyone can do something to dismantle racism. This two-day virtual seminar allows you to discover how to break inaction cycles and get involved to make a difference.

With facilitators Suzanne Haley and Justin Morgan.

Wed & Thu Jan 11 & 12 12 - 2 pm

Mon & Tue Jan 23 & 24 9 - 11 am

A Facilitator's Training

Hospitality is an effective form of everyday activism. Learn to create spaces that support people's varied experiences related to privilege, oppression, and social justice, especially as it relates to the social construct of race. You will be given tools to host and facilitate meaningful gatherings to bridge common divides and encourage uncommon connections.

With facilitator Suzanne Haley.

Tue & Wed Feb 7 & 8 6 - 8 pm

Thu & Fri Feb 9 & 10 9 - 11 am

Please share these opportunities with community members from your network interested in racial equity training and whose increased education in these topics would benefit the community.

We are pleased to support your leadership and service with this training at no charge to you. We appreciate your commitment to building a better community and look forward to your participation.
